

Grizzly Peak

Location: Oakland, CA

Difficulty: Moderate

Foot Traffic: Moderate

Vehicle Fee:

Weather:

January 55/45

February 57/45

March 62/47

April 65/48

May 68/50

June 73/53

July 76/55

August 77/56

September 78/58

October 72/56

November 62/50

December 55/45

The Skyline via Bay Ridge Trail up to Grizzly Peak I is a moderately difficult trail that spans 11.2 miles, and takes you from North Oakland to Berkeley. It offers some of the best panoramic views of the East Bay, and San Francisco skyline. It is an excellent place to hike, birdwatch, take photos, or even appreciate plant life. The wild flowers on this trail are spectacular. Also, if you're a dog lover, you are in luck. The trail is considered "dog-friendly". The weather is almost always good; the notorious "marine layer" routinely comes through on toasty summer days, and acts as Mother Nature's air-conditioner. NOTE: IF YOU WANT TO VIEW THE SUNSET, YOU SHOULD PLAN ON ARRIVING EARLY. THE SUMMIT DOES FILL UP EARLY WITH ONLOOKERS, SO EXPECT A CROWD OF PEOPLE UPON ARRIVAL.

